INDIGENOUS MINISTRY TRAINING WEEKEND

Armidale Anglican Diocese

11-13 May, 2018

The Reason:

Men and women involved or interested in ministry to Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people within the Armidale Diocese, are invited to Copeton Dam. You will meet others keen to see Aboriginal people come to know Jesus, and be encouraged, equipped and given the opportunity to be supported in this vital gospel ministry. Neville Naden will share from his wealth of experience and reflect on indigenous ministry.

The Speakers:

Rev Neville Naden

Neville (and wife Kathryn) is the Indigenous Ministry Officer for Bush Church Aid.

Neville provides support to field staff who work with Aboriginal people, and supports BCA's indigenous staff.

Nathaniel Naden

Nathaniel, married to Philippa, is a 4th year student at Moore Theological College studying for a Bachelor of Divinity. He is passionate about introducing people to Jesus and raising up indigenous leadership in Australia.

The Programme:
