Phillip Firth

is a dairy farmer's son from the Gold Coast who loves fishing and body surfing, but he lost his compass and ended up irrigation farming on the plains around Wee Waa.

Along the way he trained as an agronomist and played a bit of rugby; well maybe more rugby than he should have. More importantly, it was in Wee Waa that he came to know Jesus.

God then moved him closer to the hills and Phil was a mixed farmer 30 kilometers east of Narrabri. He has just sold the farm and is taking some time to work out what God wants him to do. Phil enjoys growing things and tending to them – crops, gardens and stock; but more recently young men. Phil and his wife Lyn have three children who are scattered across Australia. Phil has spent his time between the farm, church, meeting with blokes to pray and/or read Gods word, gardening and visiting his family.
